Les question tags

Principe

Le question tag est une petite question en fin de phrase, comme « n'est-ce pas ? ».

- Phrase affirmative → tag négatif : You are a student, aren't you?
- Phrase négative → tag affirmatif : He didn't come, did he?

Construction

On reprend l'auxiliaire (ou le modal) de la phrase, puis le pronom sujet.

- She can swim, can't she?
- Your father has finished, hasn't he?
- S'il n'y a pas d'auxiliaire, on utilise do / does / did : They live in Daloa, don't they?

Cas particuliers

- I am … → aren't I? : I am right, aren't I?
- Let's … → shall we? : Let's go to the beach, shall we?
- Impératif → will you? : Close the door, will you?
- There is … → isn't there? : There is a problem, isn't there?
- Never, nobody, nothing rendent la phrase négative → tag affirmatif : She never eats meat, does she?
- Nobody, everybody, somebody → pronom they : Nobody called me, did they?

Pièges à éviter

- Le tag reprend le temps de la phrase : He didn't come, did he? (pas does he).
- Le pronom remplace le sujet : Your father … → he.
